Dear Hiring Manager,

I am writing to express my strong interest in the Experience Design Intern position at Konrad Group. As a Computer Science student at Washington University in St. Louis with a minor in Human-Computer Interaction, I am excited by your commitment to solving complex business problems through innovative digital solutions.

My experience as a Junior UI/UX Designer at WorkOpti has given me hands-on experience in creating UI mockups, site flows, wireframes, and high-fidelity prototypes. During my tenure, I led design strategy discussions and managed comprehensive style guidelines, demonstrating my ability to articulate design concepts and ensure consistent visual identity across platforms. This experience, combined with my proficiency in Figma and strong foundation in design fundamentals, has prepared me well for contributing to Konrad Group's world-class digital experiences.

My technical background as a Computer Science major and my work as a Generative AI Specialist at NYC Tourism + Convention have given me a unique perspective on bridging the gap between design, business, and technology. I understand the importance of creating not just visually appealing interfaces, but solutions that align with business objectives and technical constraints. My experience with HTML, CSS, JavaScript, and various programming languages enables me to collaborate effectively with developers to ensure pixel-perfect execution.

What particularly draws me to Konrad Group is your culture of innovation and commitment to learning. As an active member of organizations like the National Society of Black Engineers and the Student Developer Club, I value collaborative environments that foster growth and creativity. My experience winning third place in a Google Code Next hackathon demonstrates my ability to work effectively in team settings to deliver innovative solutions.

I would welcome the opportunity to discuss how my combination of technical skills, design experience, and collaborative nature could contribute to Konrad Group's mission of creating best-in-class digital products. Thank you for considering my application.

Sincerely,
Gabrielle Sade Barthelmy
